

Did you know?

Located in southeastern Guinea, the Simandou project aims to exploit one of the world's largest iron ore deposits. But at what price?

IMPACTS

The project threatens farmland, pollutes waterways and affects the lives of local communities in Forécariah, Kérouané, Kindia and Mamou, who depend on agriculture and fishing to survive.

DEMANDS

The local residents are demanding answers and transparent management of social and environmental impacts. Their fight for justice continues!

VISIT OUR WEBSITE

www.simandouaware.info

Keep up to date with all the news from affected communities by visiting our website

